

People from around the world have clicked on your:
"I Love Pasta Yummy Tummy" website.
It's time to take your brand global!

1. I put this in the HTML5 header.

```

```

Then this in the CSS3

```
#earth {
    position: relative;
    top: -150px;
    left: -400px;
}
```

This is the gif:

Tweak the numbers for the position until you have it where ever you want it.
The HTML5 doesn't have to go in the header but I put it there since the gif will end up there.

Trivia Parody: Who would have said this if this film was centered around the Pasta Business in Miami during the 80's.

In this country, you gotta make the red sauce first. Then when you get the grated cheese, you get the pasta. Then when you can cook dinner, then you get the women.
