

A game with spaghetti chasing a meatball is all that you can think about even when...

Your Movie about your life was a block buster! Perfect casting, directing and plot and your fans still can't stop talking about your Movie Poster that you created in Photoshop.

Your life has been a whirlwind of promotional appearances on every continent including the really cold one because, after all, it's your G-7000 Air-Plane and if you want a selfie with a wild penguin, then you get a selfie with a wild penguin. Tabloid photographers wait by your limousine to find out who you are dating this week. It was fun at first, the parties, the dinners, the weekend getaways to exotic locations. Your love of pasta was there with you through it all. Now, your assistant reminds you that Silicon Valley has paid you a large sum of money for the rights to your Yummy Tummy Pasta Game.

Back to work. You scribble down some code on a napkin while eating fettuccine.

It's go time!